

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
OF WORLD
MUSIC

THE IDEA

Our aim is to set up the very first international Institute of World Music (IIMM) in the Southern French city of Aubagne and to turn it into a leading-edge centre in terms of education, schooling, research, publication, programming, production and circulation of music.

OUR GOALS

With its educational and cultural actions, the IIMM contributes to developing, transmitting and promoting different kinds of world music. It offers social spaces to meet and exchange ideas in order to favour lasting relationships between women and men which consider their various cultures as being part of the same collective memory.

OUR CHALLENGES

- Taking an active part in the blossoming of such a global culture by giving world music a place to exist and increase its status.
- Opening an Institute for music professionals and amateurs,
- Offering professional, multidisciplinary and multicultural education,
- Welcoming permanent and host teachers (from France and abroad),
- Setting up joint international degrees between various High Music Institutes and Universities,
- Giving people's education outside the state education system a central place within a professional Institute in order to build up a better understanding between different cultures and help their circulation and promotion.

OUR ACTIONS

- > Degree-awarding courses in music theory and practice ("cursus diplômé")
- > Certificate-awarding masterclasses and workshops "certifiants")
- > Training of trainers / Specific
